ABOUT BASKETBALL

Ant Lee has been playing professional basketball for 10 years and has played all over the world. A one day, 2 hour morning intense skills clinic camp will be offered as an option to tie together the weekend. This clinic will help fine tune basketball fundamentals while learning advanced team concepts. Participants will leave feeling accomplished physically as well as encouraged spiritually as there will be many opportunities for motivational talks. The goal is to advance both on court skills and ignite a fire in the athletes to know that they are more than their sport and that they are called to serve others through their gifts. Every clinic participant that attends will receive a free ticket to the evening concert.

ABOUT CONCERT

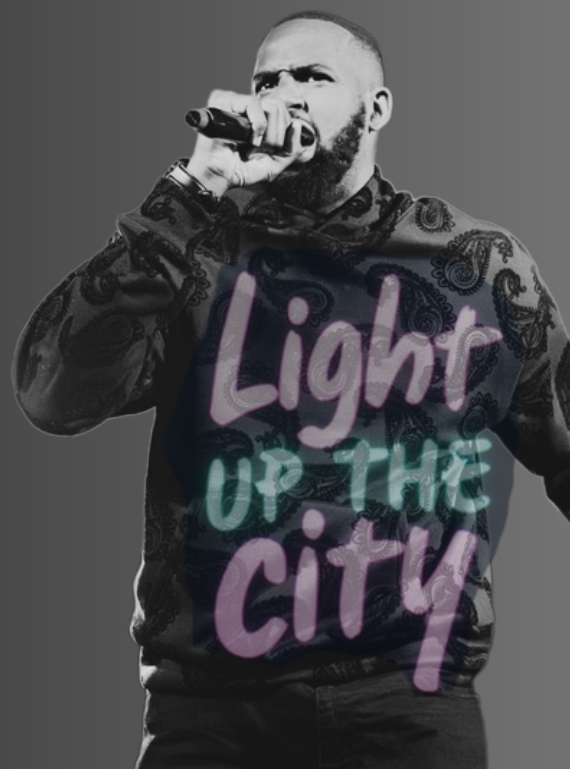

The Light Up the City concert brings together multiple Christian artists who are passionate about using their gifts and lighting a fire in those attending as we come to ignite the city and glorify God. Ant Lee, the headliner of the show, and highly touted Christian rap artist will be bringing energy and a message to inspire the audience in a unique way while giving the gospel to impact those between songs. The goal is to instill hope and bring people closer to Jesus and increase the faith in all those attending. We pray they get excited to go out and be a light to their community and the world as they exercise their talents as disciples and servants for Christ. There will be giveaways, fellowship, and merchandise available during the concert from different sponsors and vendors.

PARTNERS

Our goal is to partner with churches, mission organizations and venues across North America who are passionate about winning souls and spreading the gospel. Our idea is to work together to leverage space, equipment, volunteers, and additional resources that we need to accomplish the full experience of Light Up the City for 200+ people. Our end goal is that, together, we can have an impact on as many people as possible through music, sports, and fellowship.
